

ACE Foundation Awards Over 100 Scholarships

We are pleased to announce that the Adult and Community Education (ACE) Training And Scholarship Foundation has provided funding for over 100 scholarships for the 2004-05 School year. The scholarships are applied to tuition and books for students enrolled in the Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) Office of Adult and Community Education classes.

basic education, high school completion, apprenticeship, or certification programs offered by ACE.

The ACE Scholarship Foundation was established in 2002 to address the shortage of qualified technical and vocational workers, the need to upgrade worker's skills, and the challenge to develop a strong future workforce in Fairfax County.

Individuals and businesses are invited to contribute by contacting the ACE Foundation Board of Trustees at 703-227-2264 or by visiting www.ace-foundation.org.

The ACE Foundation is a nonprofit 501 (c) (3) organization created to provide tuition assistance to low- and moderate- income adult students for occupational training,

ACE Foundation Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the ACE Foundation was held on June 8, 2005 where Elaine Bausch and Gail Rissler, ACE Foundation founders and officers were recently honored for their commitment and hard work in establishing the Foundation and serving as President and Secretary, respectively since 2002. Additionally, at the Annual Meeting new officers were elected to serve for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005 as follows: Ron Kirby, President (Chairman of the Board, Community Management Corporation); Jack Cunningham, Vice President (General Manager, M.E. Flow, Inc.); Mike Clarke, Treasurer (President, Access National Bank); and Bonnie Moore, Ph.D, Secretary (Director, FCPS Office of Adult and Community Education).

According to Ron Kirby, the ACE Foundations goal for the fiscal year beginning July 1, is to increase donations to a level of $100,000 and substantially increase scholarship opportunities to individuals who work or live in Fairfax County.

Our Thanks

We wish to thank all of these individuals and companies who provided donations to the Foundation over the past year that led to the unprecedented award of over 100 scholarships. There are:
